

Welcome to The Marine Hotel - New Website

The Marine Hotel has a new website. To mark the launch of the refurbished Marine Hote, Robert Lindsay the new landlord has commissioned a completely new website. A new look to the hotel and a totally new look to the site. We have created a new site based upon a content management system (CMS). This means that Robert can modify the site whenever he wants all by himself without needing the assistance of a pet web designer. The site is cheaper to update and it means that the site will change regularly and as a result will be far more interesting. We'll keep the information up to date and if you regularly come back we'll make sure there's always something up to date. LightQuick created the website for Robert Lindsay for both of his establishments, the Creel Inn and the Marine Hotel Stonehaven
